Consultancy Policy

Consultation Activities

DSVV is a university for global cultural and spiritual renaissance, hence consultation of its philosophy, expertise, skills, research outcomes and innovations is an inherent portion of its service. DSVV distinctly provides consultancy and expert advice in domains such as cultural and spiritual, industrial, rural and sustainability, and traditional medicine consultancy. DSVV faculty, staff and students are allowed to provide consultation services in prior approval from institutional administrative heads under different programs.

The university provides its expertise, skills, research outcomes and innovations at no cost as per its foundation policy to all entities including corporate, society as well as individuals. The expense of resources in any consultation services or remuneration obtained from any entity or person are to be approved and finalized on a case by case at department level followed by approval from the institution administrative head.

Cultural & Spiritual consultancy

DSVV provides cultural and spiritual consultancy to individuals and entities. National and International groups/individuals/corporates visit the university for cultural and spiritual consultancy and guidance. Such activity results in their personal development as well as cultural and spiritual research activity and collaboration. Faculty and Staff voluntarily involved in cultural and spiritual consultancy are provided travel and accommodation through sponsoring entities. The university provides travel and accommodation expenses where consultancy nature is self-less social service, for example, Yoga training to prisoners in Jail and handmade fruit product training to villagers.

Industrial Consultancy

The Consultancy is the important part of the research through which the faculty, scientists, Post-Doctoral researcher, staff share their expertise to the industry as an expert advice that help to solve their challenges with design, build, and develop policies, frameworks, models, testing and validating services, help with process and product development and prototypes. The purpose of the industrial consultancy is to service industry or organization and community. The consultancy time is to be approved by the head of the institution. Before the starting of the consultancy, the proper consultancy agreement/details are to be defined for the activities, resources, infrastructure with their proper financial details with the industrial institution for each consultancy project.

Traditional Medicine Consultancy

DSVV works in preserving and practicing traditional medicine and therapies. Experts' consultancies of traditional medicine to patients and field professionals are voluntary as part of their service to the society.

Rural & Sustainability consultancy

The university seriously works in rural employability and sustainability. Faculty and staff involved in this activity provide training of skills of rural entrepreneurship to individuals and relevant entities. Such training programs are at no cost. Remuneration or charges for resources for specialized arrangements are to be finalized by the institutional administrative head.
